I'm a very caring and compassionate person that's why I became a Certified nurse aide, I also have great communication skills. I've been a certified nursing assistant 5 years i love what i do, doing this brings me joy knowing i help people.. I also have experience with dementia patients, and helping with Hospice patients. My biggest strength is giving my all to my job, doing my best to satisfy everyone and always remembering that the customers are number one. I have warehouse experience, I've done cell phone work, order pulling and shipping and receiving, material handling. I'm a fast learner and always willing to learn new things.

Authorized to work in the US for any employer
